ABSTRACT:

Social change means change of the activities and form of the society, which continuously change. New discovery and inventions helps the change of the outlook and man's progress and happiness. Change means construction not destruction only human beings bring the change in society. As we know necessity in the mother of invention one invention changes the attitude and ways of living. So, social changes are occurred one after another. Education and social change are closely related. Education means individual active, liberal and wide. Education encourages new inventions, discoveries and resource for the good of man and Society. All the institutions such as political, scientific, religions and vocational take the help of education for change. Education has led to cultural and material progress. Language is the strongest medium that helps in human progress. The important function of education is to preservation and transmission of culture. Nothing should be imitated blindly. Education should reform the old according to the new needs. Change should be slow and through democratic means. Education is a very dynamic process. It helps life and Society change and transform from all directions. Education helped to discover many important things and Technologies for the advancement of life. From sociological point of view education is a process of achievement of social ends. There are so many factors or causes of social change like environmental, Technological, Economical, Political, Cultural etc. Social change is a very comprehensive term. It is not easy to define the term in few words. It is a systematic process. Education to be utilized in three ways for social change (1) Education regarding social traditions and Customs (2) Creating feeling of free and fearless expression. No blind following; and (3) Creating capacity and ability for contributing in any good plan. Study of history political science and civics necessary for knowledge of social system. Education preserves culture and social wealth and preserves them from destructive tendencies.
